

Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp

July 22-27, 2018

Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp is designed to bring youth to Christ while providing instruction in rodeo events. They come to learn rodeo skills and have a chance to perform in a real rodeo; but most come away with so much more. We are blessed by Professional Cowboys and Cowgirls who come to volunteer time, rodeo skills and share testimonies of faith. New lifelong friendships are built with peers and volunteers, but most important, many of these kids open their hearts and choose to begin a new lifelong relationship with Jesus.

Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp

Clark County Chapter Fellowship of Christian Cowboys

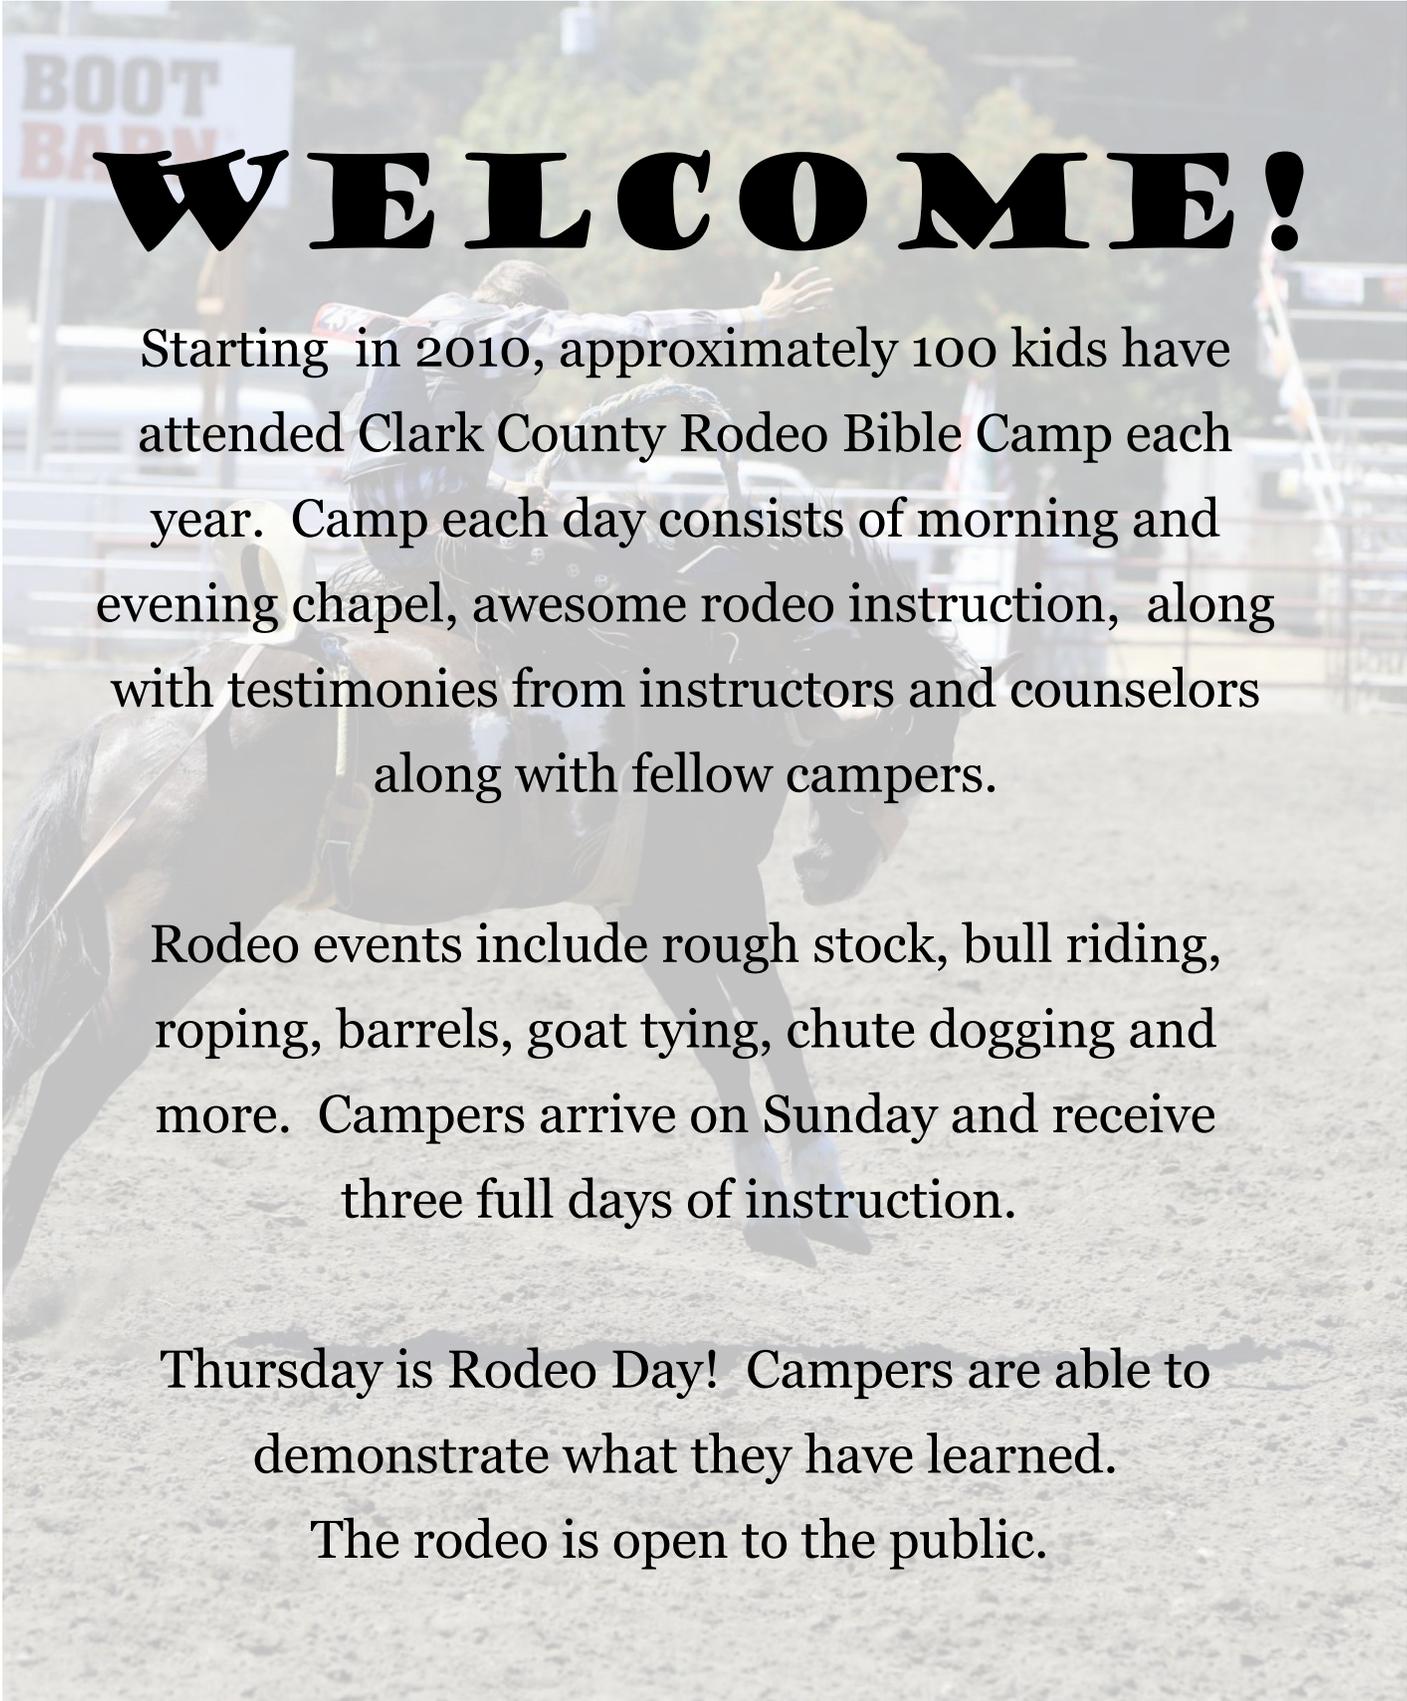

Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp

PO Box 822140

Vancouver, WA 98682

Email: clarkcountyrodebiblecamp@gmail.com

www.clarkcountyrodebiblecamp.com

WELCOME!

Starting in 2010, approximately 100 kids have attended Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp each year. Camp each day consists of morning and evening chapel, awesome rodeo instruction, along with testimonies from instructors and counselors along with fellow campers.

Rodeo events include rough stock, bull riding, roping, barrels, goat tying, chute dogging and more. Campers arrive on Sunday and receive three full days of instruction.

Thursday is Rodeo Day! Campers are able to demonstrate what they have learned.

The rodeo is open to the public.

RODEO SCHEDULE 2018

2:30 - Rodeo Performance

These are the rodeo events.

Please see the Day Sheet insert for the schedule and list of contestants.

Calf Roping

Team Roping

Breakaway Roping

Rodeo Queen

Goat Tying

Barrel Racing

Pole Bending

Bareback Riding

Saddle Bronc

Chute Dogging

Bull Riding

Concessions are Available during the Rodeo.

Following the Rodeo, families and friends are invited to join campers for the Awards and Baptism Ceremony.

THANK YOU!

STOCK CONTRACTORS

Bar X Rodeo Company
High Desert Roughstock
Pat McLaughlin

RODEO HELP

Rodeo Announcer: Scott Burks Davis

Bull Fighters: Eric Schwindt

And special thanks to the Pick Up Men!

INSTRUCTORS

Barrels: Dawn Thompson, Karen Richter, Alex Barber

Poles: Sharon Woods, Dawn Brooks

Team Roping: Ray Shepherd, Craig Kampe

Breakaway Roping: Reagan Alires, Randee Weygandt

Chute Dogging: Jace Thompson

Saddle Bronc: Danny Aliris

Bull Riding: Joe Meling

Goat Tying: Valerie James

Calf Roping: Joe Thompson

Rodeo Queen Coordinator: Amy Burgin-Roggenkamp, Felicia Harrison

VOLUNTEERS

Thank you to all of our camp volunteers!

From our wonderful kitchen staff, facility volunteers, team leaders and counselors, administrative help and camp directors, we have over 30 volunteers who help us each year. We would not be able to do this camp without them.

Photo Credits:

Brent Venneri
C & A Photography

SADDLE BRONC

Rodeo's "classic" event, saddle bronc riding has roots that run deep in the history of the Old West. Ranch hands would often gather and compete among themselves to see who could display the best style while riding wild horses. It was from this early competition that today's event was born.

Each rider must begin his ride with his feet over the bronc's shoulders. A rider who synchronizes his spurring action with the animal's bucking efforts will receive a high score.

Another factor considered in the scoring throughout the ride is the length of his spurring stroke. Model spurring action begins with the rider's feet far forward on the bronc's point of shoulder, sweeping to the back of the saddle, or "candle", as the horse bucks.

The rider then snaps his feet back to the horse's neck a split second before the animal's front feet hit the ground. Disqualification results if the rider touches the animal, himself, or his equipment with his free hand, if either foot slips out of a stirrup, or if he drops the bronc rein.

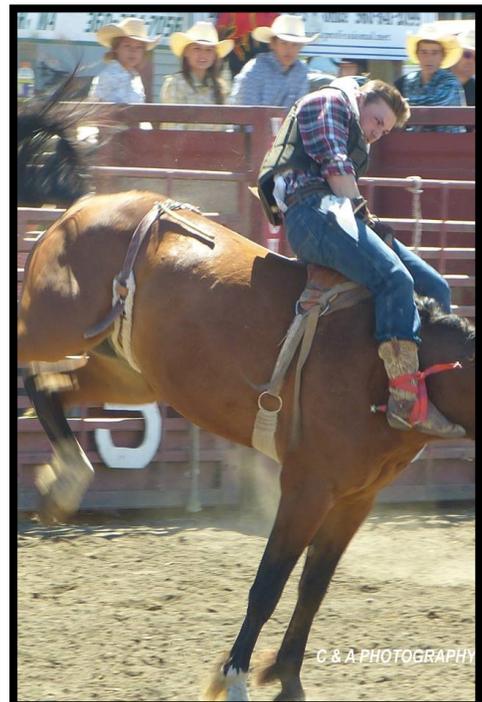

BAREBACK

Instead of saddles, a double-thick leather pad, called a rigging, secured on the bronc's back is utilized. No stirrups or reins are used. Slightly off center at the top of the rigging is a leather handhold.

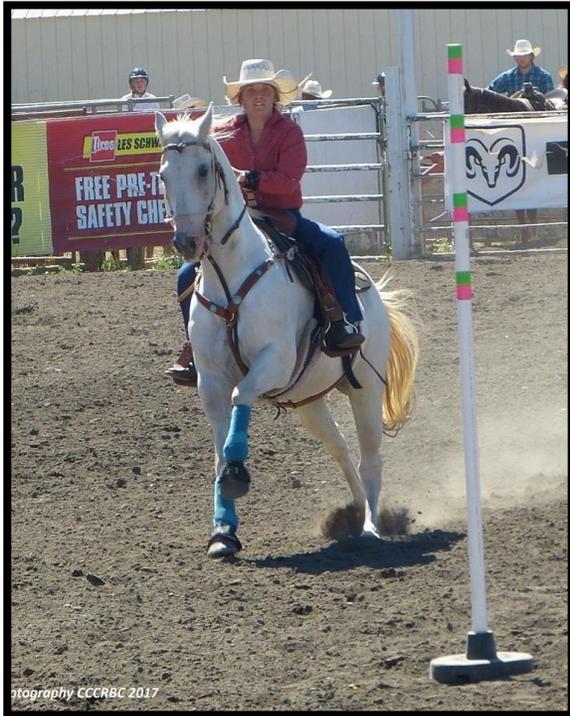

Bareback riders roll their spurs up the horse's neck, called "jerking their knees", then throw their feet high and wide.

The rider must spur the horse over the break of its shoulder when the front feet hit the ground the first jump out of the chute.

Contestants must ride for eight seconds and not touch the horse with his free hand to qualify.

POLE BENDING

Pole bending is a timed event that features a horse and rider running a weaving or serpentine path around six poles arranged in a line.

Good horsemanship is the foundation for success in pole bending and barrel racing. The horse and rider team must work as one in order to excel.

Each contestant will begin from a running start, and time shall begin and end as the horse's nose crosses the line. A horse may start either to the right or to the left of the first pole and then run the remainder of the pattern accordingly.

Knocking over a pole shall carry a five-second penalty. Failure to follow the course shall cause disqualification.

BARREL RACING

The barrel race originated in Texas in the early 40's using one of Texas' most familiar items.....an oil drum. The cloverleaf pattern was developed to standardize the contest, and the riders race against time around three barrels.

Time starts with the drop of the flag as the rider crosses the score line or, when an electronic timer is used, the horse crosses between the two electronic eyes placed on each side of the arena.

The two barrels at the base of the triangle must be turned first in either order, then the rider proceeds to the third barrel at the point of the triangle, turns back to the score line to be flagged by the judge or timed by the electronic timer.

The entire race seldom takes more than twenty seconds, depending on the size of the arena; with a five second penalty assessed for knocking down a barrel. The prize money goes to the rider whose horse can run the fastest and negotiate the sharpest turns.

TEAM ROPING

Competitive team roping took shape from a routine procedure on cattle ranches where animals were doctored and branded long before the modern squeeze chute came into use. And there still are cattlemen who believe stretching an animal out with lariat ropes is the most practical way, especially on the open range.

In the rodeo arena, the steer is given a head start. The header then must rope the steer's horns, take a wrap around his saddle horn with the rope and then turn the direction of the steer before the heeler immediately ropes the steer's hind legs and dallies his rope around his saddle horn. Time is called when both horses are facing each other with the steer in the middle and both ropes tight.

BREAKAWAY

Also a coordinated effort of horse and rider against time, this event is similar to the traditional calf roping except that the roper does not have to throw and tie the calf after catching it.

Instead, the ropes are tied to the saddle horn by a heavy string in such a manner that allows it to break away from the horn when the calf reached the end of the rope. A color flag is tied to the end of the rope at the saddle horn to make it easier for the field judge to see it break free. Time begins when the calf is given a head start from the chute and ends with the break of the rope from the saddle horn.

A roper receives no time should they break the rope from the horn by hand or touch the rope or string after the catch is made.

CALF ROPING

A calf roper and their horse represent the utmost in teamwork and coordination. With a head start, the calf trips an automatic barrier tripping the flag over the barrier. Time starts with the flag. A ten second penalty is assessed if the roper breaks the barrier.

After the calf is roped, the horse stops and steps back, keeping the rope taut. The roper must throw the calf down by hand, cross three legs and with a "piggin' string" tie with wraps and a "hooley".

The flag is dropped when the roper throws their hands up, signaling for time.

GOAT TYING

Goat tying is a rodeo event that is typically seen in youth, high school and college rodeos. The object is to race to the end of the rodeo arena to where a goat is staked out on a 10 feet rope, catch the goat, throw it to the ground and tie three of its feet together.

Contestants dismount their horse while it is sliding to a stop, though usually while still in motion, run to the staked-out goat, which must be taken to the ground and laid on its side in order to tie three of its legs together. The rope used, with an approximate length of four feet, is called a "string." Contestants signal the end of their run by throwing their hands up and getting off the goat to indicate the completion of the run. The contestant with the fastest time wins.

There are penalties that may be added if the goat comes untied during the 6 second period, and a 10-second penalty added to a time if the horse crosses the staked rope of the goat or causes the goat to become loose. If the contestant touches the goat or string after indicating that they are finished, they will receive a no time.

CHUTE DOGGING

Chute dogging is a rodeo event related to steer wrestling, however, the competitor starts the event in a chute with the steer as opposed to on horseback. The event is designed to give novices a chance to prepare for steer wrestling.

When the chute opens, the competitor must bring the steer to a line ten feet from the chute and wrestle (or "dog") the steer to the ground. In order to count as a legal fall, all four feet of the steer must be in the air when the steer is on the ground. The competitor can be disqualified for losing contact with the steer or tripping the steer.

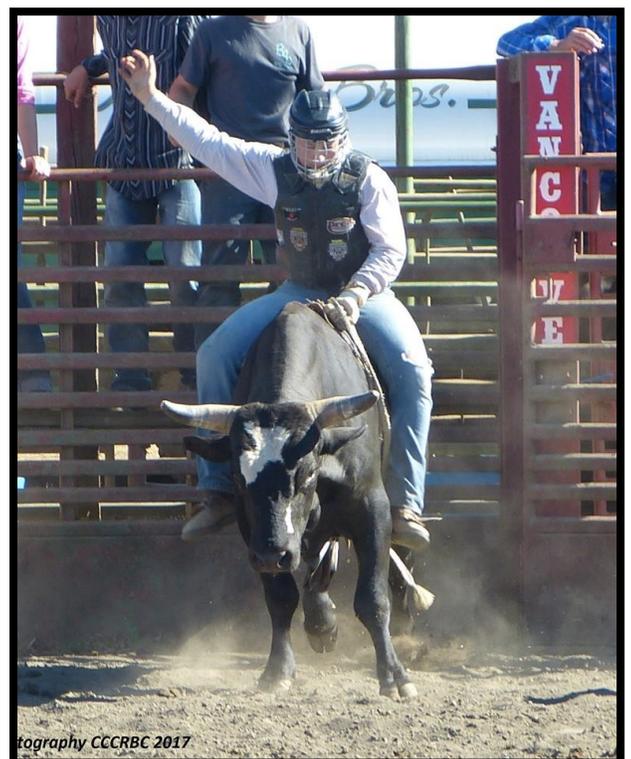

It is a timed event, with the time starting at the moment the chute dogger crosses the ten foot line. The steer must be wrestled within 60 seconds.

BULL RIDING

Serous injury occurs more often in this event than in any other sport. The loose-hided animals may add injury to gore or trample a fallen rider. They are most dangerous as well in the chute, where their leaning weight can easily break a rider's legs.

Woven with a single handhold, a flat-braided length of Manila rope about an inch-and-a-quarter in width is used noose fashion around the bull, set just behind the animal's shoulders. A weighted bell is also attached to the rope, which allows it to fall free when the ride is completed. A rider dismounts on his own, and relies on the bull-fighters to keep the animal's attention while he gets out of range.

The contest is judged basically the same as both bronc riding events, with the bull being given 1 to 25 points and the rider given 1 to 25 points each by two judges. A score of 100 would be a perfect ride.

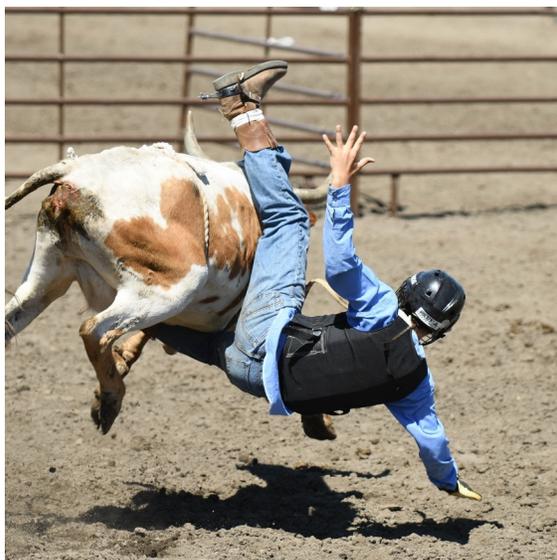

RODEO QUEEN

A rodeo queen is a female representative and "face" of the sport and traditions of rodeo and the great western way of life. The rodeo queen is a talented, personable horsewomen with a knowledge of the sport of rodeo, the equine industry and the rodeo, community or organization she represents.

She represents her rodeo, association, or region for a standard time of usually 12 months and usually is required to wear a cowboy hat, crown, and sash with her title on it. During her year reign, she will travel with her horse and participate in regional rodeos, parades and events. Rodeo Queens also make special appearances at her cities local events and organizations, to promote community service and giving back to her community.

Meet Your Bareback Riders

Justice Forsythe

Davis Paul Otto

Wyatt Wood

Meet Your Barrel Racers

Madison Ballou

Samantha Blackman

Natalie Cole

Brooklyn Davis

Anna DeRoos

Alison Ferguson

Willow Forsythe

Rachel Frazier

*I am with you and will watch over you.
Genesis 28:15*

Meet Your Barrel Racers

Jocelyn Goodnight

Kylie Hester

Breanna Jones

Rylie Lowery

Brooke McNealy

Maggie Skinner

Meghan Smith

Hannah Spicer

Alexia Tresch

Brandi Vance

*I am the light. Follow me.
Never ride in darkness.*

John 8:12

Meet Your Breakaway Ropers

Savannah Chandler

Jessie Ferrington

Aysha Long

Janessa Long

Aleyah Mauk

Josie Olson

Taytum Peters

Karen Phelps

Klair Thomas

Aysia Turner

Morgan Whited

Morgan Thompson

God gave us a spirit not of fear, but of power, love, self control.
2Timothy 1:7

Meet Your Bull Riders

Cole Calhoun

Jesse Filer

Dylan Gorham

Gavin Johnson

Michael Kaylor

Tyler LeLacheur

Justin Lewis

Mason Meyer

Shane Meyer

Alex Mitchell

Brayden Waits

You don't have to ride this one alone. I'm gonna show you how.

Psalm 32:8

Meet Your Calf Roper

Tanner Tyler

Meet Your Chute Doggers

Tucker Alexander

Bailey Anderson

Nate Anderson

Kylie Ballard

Julieann Goodnight

Drew Harrison

Ryder Helstrom-Wilson

Jed Thompson

Meet Your Chute Doggers

Kayden Hull

Brenden Lefever

Asa McKinney

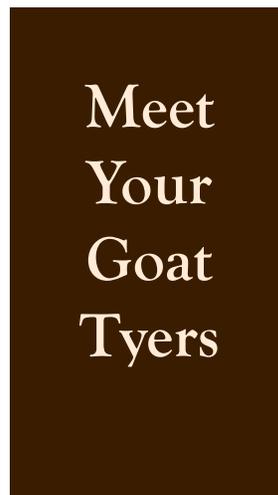

Alex McIntyre

Sean Perkins-Mornay

Sterling Cook

Natalie Bratton

Lindzey Doran

Jayel Meyer

Kaiya Villines

Grace Taylor

Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding. Proverbs 3:5

Meet Your Pole Benders

McKenzie Brown

Kam'Arii Fernandez

Brenna McEathron

Hailey Mullen

Emily Nadal

Laurel Otto

MacKenzie Rathbone

Bailey Trachsel

Ashley Venneri

Abigail Walsh

Brooke Whited

Lexi Williams

*Let the glory of the LORD endure forever.
Psalm 104:31*

Meet Your Rodeo Queens

Emily Livingston

Rebecca Merrill

Lindsey Terry

It is God who arms with strength and keeps my way secure.
2 Samuel 22:33

Meet Your Saddle Bronc Riders

Jace England

Callen Whitaker

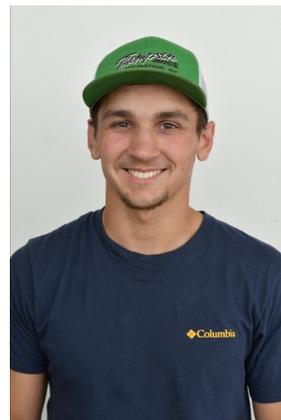

Meet Your Team Ropers

Mayzee Dalton

Reid Otto

Rylan Thompson

IN MEMORY OF JAKE THOMPSON

September 21, 2003-June 24, 2017

“Fearless”

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, and of love and of sound mind.

2 Timothy 1:7

You pray and ask Jesus to come into your heart,
and then you go down
under the water.

The old heart and all the bad washes away.

Then, when you come back up, it's like you have a new heart and Jesus is in it.

Jake Thompson

Be Fearless

JAKE THOMPSON MEMORIAL BUCKLE

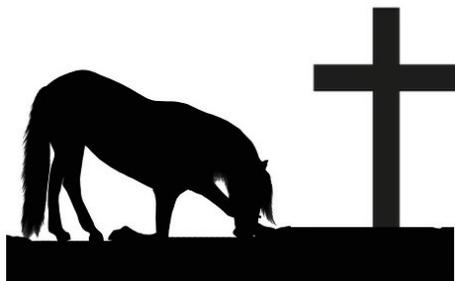

“Fearless”

Always giving and willing to lend a helping hand are traits that represent the “Spirit of Jake”. This buckle will be awarded to the camper that demonstrates these qualities.

JAKE THOMPSON MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Team Equine and the OeDell Family are proud to create and present a Scholarship Fund to the Thompson Family in memory of Jake Thompson in the amount of $500 per year, beginning in 2018.

Our goal is that future recipients will live with the same Cowboy Spirit and Heart of a young man that was loved and cherished by all and that will forever be remembered.

teamequine.com

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD THAT HE GAVE HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON THAT WHOSEVER BELIEVETH IN HIM SHOULD NOT PERISH BUT HAVE EVERLASTING LIFE.

John 3:16

Thank You to the 2018 Sponsors & Donors to Clark County Rodeo Bible Camp!

2018 Camp Supporters

A big THANK YOU, to all our Volunteers and Supporters who have not only donated their time, but also materials, services and financial support. Without you this camp would not be possible!

Pioneer Feed
Strobels Arena
Jill McNealy
Andrea Peters
Angela & Steve Meyer
Carrie Kennedy Dean
Kathy Angelo
Thompson Family
Thompson Brothers Excavating
Harold & Jeannette Webberley
Clark County Saddle Club
Kory & Sheree Arntson

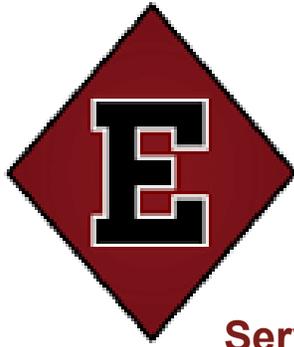

Neil Yancy
Leo & Lois Clark
Waste Connections
Wilco
ERS Rentals
Battle Ground NAPA
NYRA
Emery & Sons
Star Rentals
Pape' Machinery
Susan Carlson

The Lord is my strength and my shield.

My heart trusts in Him and I am helped.

Psalm 28:7

Emery & Sons Construction Group

Serving the Northwest and beyond since 1967.

Emery & Sons Construction is an industry leader for underground utilities and site-work of all scopes and sizes. From subdivisions to pump stations to major infrastructure projects, we have earned an outstanding reputation for successful projects from start to finish.

What We Do

- ◆ CMGC / Design Build
- ◆ Public Infrastructure Improvements
- ◆ Sitework Developments
- ◆ Subdivisions
- ◆ Tanks and Reservoirs
- ◆ Treatment Plants & Pump Stations

Contact:

PO Box 13069
3841 Fairview Industrial Dr. SE Suite 150
Salem, Oregon 97302
Phone: (503) 588-7576
Email: info@emeryandsons.com
Website: www.emeryandsons.com

Thank You to Emery & Sons
Construction Group for sponsoring
Rodeo Bible Camp's Wednesday Evenings Ice Cream Social!

Thompson BROS.

EXCAVATING, INC.

Thompson Bros
Excavating offers the very best in all phases and forms of civil,
underground,
and earthwork construction in the Pacific Northwest since 1992.

Thompson Bros. Excavating

18211 NE Fourth Plain Rd.

Vancouver, WA 98682

Phone: (360) 254-7056 Fax: (360) 254-7195

www.tbeinc.us

Come Play at the CLARK COUNTY SADDLE CLUB

Join Clark County's Premiere Saddle Club

Many activities available with membership:

Barrel Racing
Gaming Sorting

Drill Team
Roping
Arena | Clubhouse Rental

See the CCSC Website for info on how to join!

WWW.CLARKCOUNTYSADDLECLUB.COM | WWW.VANCOUVERRODEO.COM

FOLLOW US ON FACEBOOK

A woman wearing a cowboy hat and a red shirt is riding a horse. She is holding a large American flag on a pole. The background shows a rodeo arena with spectators and trees. The text is overlaid on the image in a bold, black, serif font.

THANK YOU FOR ANOTHER GREAT
CLARK COUNTY
RODEO BIBLE CAMP.